Mid-Illini Conference will stream basketball games

High school sports contests have resumed in central Illinois. That's a great opportunity for our student-athletes, but with game attendance extremely limited, it's less so for their many fans.

As a result, Mid-Illini Conference schools plan to livestream their games online, starting with basketball, to give their families, friends, communities and media the chance to watch and support these kids doing what they love to do.

Below are the streaming links at each of our member high schools.
